G-MEN PROBE TRAIN WRECK

Night of Horror—Their baggage heaped about them, these women survivors of the tragic Southern Pacific wreck in Nevada show the horror they experienced when the crack streamliner in which they were traveling hurtled off a 30-foot bridge, killing a score of persons. They huddle in a forlorn group and try to ward off the chill night air with whatever garment is available. It was hours before these and other survivors were removed to safety by rescue trains rushed to the scene.

MANIAC TRAILED IN RAIL WRECK

Hunt Man Without Ears; 20 Killed, 114 Injured

RENO, Nev., Aug. 14 (AP)—The fiendishly plotted wrecking of a $2,000,000 streamliner train left at least 20 persons dead and at least 114 injured today, while police sought a man "with both ears off" for questioning about the tragedy.

Southern Pacific railroad officials said evidence clearly indicated the wreck of their crack westbound "City of San Francisco" in desert wastes of central Nevada late Saturday night was deliberately planned. A coroner's jury yesterday found the disaster was caused by "a misplaced rail, misplaced by a person or persons unknown."

Forty-four spikes had been removed from the outside rail of a curve near the approach to a 60-foot bridge over the shallow Humboldt river, where all but four of the 17 cars in the yellow-tan fleet hurtled off the tracks, angle plates connecting rail lengths having been removed.

MAN MINUS EARS

An entire 39-foot length of rail had been moved four inches inward as the rail tie plates respiked to the ties in the new position, said T. J. Foley of Ogden, assistant Southern Pacific division superintendent.

The small electric block signal cable between the rails, which installed with would have moved signals into stop position, was left in place, Foley said. The nearest signal, which would have stopped the streamliner, is 2300 feet from the bridge.

As this evidence of what Foley termed "clearly a case of sabotage with murderous intent" was uncovered, Nevada state police asked officers throughout the state to be on the lookout for a man whose ears had been cut off.

Chief of Police Andy M. Welliver of Reno said he was informed this man had been "acting suspiciously" at Fernley, and had inquired yesterday morning at a Fernley garage, "has anything happened?"

The streamliner, speeding west-ward at 50 to 60 miles, was hurtled up at 10:23 p. m. (MST) (1:23 a. m. Boston time) about 200 miles east of Reno, as it was crossing a 60-foot bridge over shallow Humboldt river.

BULLETIN

WASHINGTON, Aug. 14 (INS)—Two federal agencies moved into action today on reports that sabotage was responsible for the wreck of the streamlined train in Nevada when a score of persons were killed. The Interstate Commerce Commission sent five investigators to make a sweeping probe into the tragedy. Department of Justice officials admitted they had dispatched G-men to the scene.

Boston Doctor Aids Injured In Rail Wreck

RENO, Nev., Aug. 14 (AP)—Dr. F. G. Brigham, only physician among the passengers on the ill-fated streamliner, left the New England Deaconess Hospital in Boston to see the San Francisco fair and to ride on the City of San Francisco "to satisfy a lifelong interest in railroading."

"I've had my ride on this famous train," he said, "and I'm going to see the Fair and I'm glad to be still alive."

Dr. Brigham dismissed his achievements among the shocked and injured with a wave of his hand.

"It was nothing," he said, "everybody worked. Everybody helped. I have never seen such morale and concentration in any big group of people."

The Boston physician broke all the windows on the upper side of the car in which he and a score or two of passengers were trapped. Then he made the injured comfortable on mattresses until they would be gotten out. Afterward he went forward to the head of the train and helped lay out the dead and care for injured.

$1.25 Tax Jump Seen; Angry Solons Home

Despite measures to tap new sources of state revenue insisted upon by Governor Saltonstall, local tax rates will rise an average of $1.25 on $1000 throughout the state, with 75 cents of that amount due to the state tax, Tax Commissioner Henry F. Long predicted today as the weary legislators took their way homeward.

But this increase, the commissioner said, is only half what it would have been had the Legislature persisted in its early refusal to enact any of the governor's tax program. In such a case, he explained, the amount required from local communities would have been as much as $1.50 higher than their last year's levy.

The average local rate, Long said, should be about $36.65 per $1000, with local authorities having a chance, by cutting expenditures, to match the lowered state tax with decreases of their own.

"Some communities not too heavily in debt may be able to show a $3 decrease from last years's rate," he said.

COURT TEST LOOMS

Long made his prediction as the members of the Legislature disbanded, still smarting over the Governor's veto of the measure which would have paid them $5000 for a single biennial session, replacing their previous $2000 for each annual session.

Meanwhile, several Democrats announced that they may seek a Supreme Court test of the legality of the stormy 35½-hour session which ended yesterday because the State House clocks had been stopped after 11:55 p. m. Saturday to provide the fiction of a continued Saturday session.

A "blue law" prohibits work on Sunday, but legal observers pointed to an ancient Supreme Court decision permitting the legislature to sit on Sunday in case of necessity.

STREAMS GET MONEY

During the session, the legislators had passed 540 acts and adopted 75 resolves, and 22 acts and one resolve were vetoed by the Governor.

The Legislature departed in only one instance from the "pay-as-you-go" principle of the Administration, when it voted a $1,000,000 bond issue to finance stream clearance in sections of the state which have been badly damaged in past floods.

OUST 15 CONNOLLY AIDES

James F. McDermott, clerk of superior civil court, appointed to serve the unexpired term of John Patrick Connolly, who resigned under fire, today announced the names of 16 office workers who have been asked to resign, and the names of 16 former workers who may have their jobs back.

The 16 asked to tender their resignations were given the jobs by Connolly after he had discharged, among others, the 16 who have been notified that they may have their old posts back if they wish them.

One of the 16 asked to resign, George Talbot, died a few days ago.

Raft, Stewart Vie For Norma Shearer

JAMES STEWART
He's Candidate

Here is the second installment of one of the greatest real-life romances of the screen which began in yesterday's Boston Sunday Advertiser.

Two men and a girl, a situation as old as time itself . . . But, when the girl is the reigning queen of Hollywood, its richest, most charming, and one of its most beautiful girls, and the men are two top notch stars it's news . . .

She is Norma Shearer, $18,000,000 widow of the great and good Irving Thalberg who never, for a moment, has relinquished her place among the first ten women of the screen.

One of the men is wek and slick Georgie Raft, the Broadway hoofer who has become one of the great dramatic stars of the day. The other is Jimmy Stewart, living personification of thousands upon untold thousds of young American men, the boy who soared to filmdom's sights from our own Falmouth theater.

Two men and a girl . .

By GEORGE W. CLARKE

New York awoke one day recently to a realization that it had witnessed the first act in what may be the greatest real-life love drama of the year . . .

NORMA SHEARER, FILM GLAMOR GIRL
She Keeps 'Em Guessing

New York knew that Norma Shearer was in town. New York read that she was escorted everywhere by George Raft, who knows more about New York than any other film player — from Hell's Kitchen to the Waldorf.

And New York was a little thrilled when it heard that ex-hoofer Raft, remembered by New Yorkers as a dark-haired kid who used to tie himself in knots on the floor of "Texas" Guinan's pre-prohibition bistro—and now, ostensibly, at least, the one-and-only of Chicago heiress Virginia Peine—had dropped everything and sailed for Europe on the Normandie with Norma.

RAFT VS. STEWART

But it took the ubiquitous Mr. Walter Winchell, the great recorder of what goes on behind the scenes, to really give the tip-off.

"Jimmy Stewart," wrote Mr. Winchell, "planed in Friday to catch the Conte Di Savoia.

GEORGE RAFT
Cupid's Game?

Norma Shearer sailed last week on the Normandie. You can guess the rest"—or, words to that effect.

What Mr. Winchell didn't record, however, was Jimmy Stewart's possible frame of mind on learning that Raft was on the same boat as Miss Shearer . . . Everyone in Hollywood knows, of course, that Jimmy Stewart has been Miss Shearer's escort on innumerable occasions, and had been surmised a little as to their possible intentions, but it took the Raft business to bring speculation to a head.

What will happen when they all meet, say, in Paris? Who will be her chosen squire then? Will she chose Raft, who showed her around New York? Or will she stick to Stewart, her escort from Hollywood.

Putting it bluntly, is Miss Shearer

JOAN FONTAINE TO WED BRIAN AHERNE

By LOUELLA O. PARSONS
Motion Picture Editor, International News Service

HOLLYWOOD, Aug. 14—Early this week, Mrs. George Fontaine will announce the engagement of her daughter, Joan, to Brian Aherne, the English actor. This is the most exciting and most surprising news in many a moon, for very few people in Hollywood knew of Brian's interest in the popular young actress.

They met in Palm Springs casually last winter, but it was not until they were both dinner guests of Pierre Monteux, musical conductor, that they realized it was more than a passing fancy. Today they had just returned from Saratoga, Cal., where Brian went to ask for the hand of the bride-to-be.

The wedding will take place in that small California hamlet, where both Joan and her sister, Olivia de Havilland, lived before they became such prominent Hollywood figures.

LOST? LOST!—Three-year-old Jean Gaffney and three-week-old Fido arrive simultaneously in Cambridge police headquarters and are made to feel at home . . . With ice cream cone and cap . . . while police sought folks they belong to. Jean was quickly identified, but Fido . . . well, Fido's still waitin'.

LOST CHILD MEETS PAL IN LOST DOG

Two-year-old Jean Gaffney, who couldn't explain herself very well when she was picked up by a prowl car in Quincy sq., Cambridge, and two-weeks old Tarzan, who couldn't explain himself at all, had a swell party in the Central sq. police station today.

Jean is the daughter of a night-side patrolman, John Gaffney, who works out of that very station, but who was at home in bed when his daughter paid her impromptu visit to headquarters.

And Tarzan is a puppy, found like Jean, wandering along a Cambridge st., emitting yelps alike in quality, though not in quantity, to the movie screams emitted by his namesake.

Great was the joy of the two little wanderers as they met in the station house and went to work on ice cream and cookies provided by their bluecoated hosts.

And great was their sorrow, vocally expressed, when Jean's mother, who had been hunting frantically for her since early morning, found out where she was, and came to take her home.

Jean wanted to take Tarzan with her, but Tarzan, mournful at the prospect, had to stay and wait for his mamma—or somebody—to come and claim him, too.

Peace in Actors' Dispute Seen Near

ATLANTIC CITY, N. J., Aug. 14 (INS)—Hopes for an amicable settlement were high today as the executive council of the American Federation of Labor prepared to meet this afternoon and consider a number of proposals to restore peace in the jurisdictional dispute which has split America's actors into two warring factions.

Another big delegation of glamorous members of the Associated Actors and Artists of America, the parent body which precipitated the quarrel by suspending the American Federation of Actors, headed by Sophie Tucker, was expected to arrive from New York.

Rescuers Drag Boy, Woman Out of Surf

An eight-year-old boy was rescued from drowning at Winthrop and a 56-year-old woman, floating on an inner tube, was taken from the water at Revere today in two acts of heroism.

Frank Williams and his 10-year-old sister, Kate, of Shirley Point, Winthrop, were 30 feet from shore headed for a raft off Shirley st. when the boy, exhausted, began to sink.

Kate, crying for help, attempted to hold him on the surface but he went down.

Lawrence Quigley, Jr., 17, son of the former Chelsea mayor, dived, fully clad, reached the Williams boy and got him to the beach.

The boy was revived and then taken home by his sister.

Mrs. Annie Silverman of North Shore rd., Revere, was the other rescued swimmer. Lifeguard William Russell got her ashore.

N. E. TROOPS JOIN 'WAR'

PLATTSBURG, Aug. 14—With the Yankee Division—New England's own—in the vanguard, the National Guard troops of eight states were mobilizing here today for a mimic war, greatest in the nation's peacetime history.

And to many a veteran of the YD's wartime history, brilliant with triumphs, it must have seemed like the real thing, with a torrent of rain drenching the troops as they expertly made camp in the wet and gloomy darkness on unfamiliar terrain, as outfits from all of New England, New York and New Jersey poured from the railheads and disembarked from troop trucks.

The maneuvers, part of national "preparedness" war games extending from here to northern Virginia, where Middle Atlantic states soldiers are pitting themselves against units of the regular army on the historic battlefields of the Civil War, will find at least 76,000 men seeking mock action within the next two weeks.

EXPERTS WATCH GAMES

Approximately 21,000 more uniformed men, marching with an earnestness that belied the "sham" nature of the encounters to come, poured into a 30-mile area around this old army post on the shores of Lake Champlain, to join the 12,000 who made camp here yesterday and last night, despite torrential rain which left uniforms and camping equipment soggy and clammy.

For the next few days they will engage in practice maneuvers, readying themselves for the grand climax, a three-day battle which will see an invading "Black" army of the National Guard attempting to rout 20,000 highly mechanized regulars.

The games are designed to test the effectiveness of Uncle Sam's mechanical regular army against greater numbers, and over all kinds of terrain, rough and smooth.

Military observers from Great Britain, France, Germany, Japan, and China are watching for their respective countries, much as American and other observers watched the progress of the Spanish and Sino-Japanese campaigns.

PRECAUTIONS TAKEN

For it is only by such "play-wars" that the army can test the effectiveness of its carefully evolved methods of defense and offense in peace time for when a war breaks out, it is too late, as Uncle Sam found in 1917 and 1918, when American soldiers were forced to work with equipment borrowed from the French and British, securing war materials from countries which had more recently tested their equipment on the field of battle.

Despite the serious nature of the maneuvers, however, Lieut.-Gen. Hugh Drum, in general charge of the mass troop movements, has all possible precautions taken to prevent injury to personnel, and damage to civilian property.

Every round of blank ammunition issued is to be inspected, lest a live shell or cartridge should find its way, with possible danger to life, into a soldier's firing piece.

Bayonets are taboo, and the men have been ordered to surrender to any tank approaching within 100 yards, for fear one of the crashing "land battle wagons" might run over and crush concealed soldiers unfamiliar with the speed and maneuverability of these efficient vehicles.

BATTLE FOR CAPITAL

"Damage officers" will follow behind each unit to compensate for any ruin which may be caused by the relentless advance of marching men and tanks although cultivated fields have been declared "out-of-bounds" and the troops have been cautioned against damage to woodlots.

Meanwhile, in Northern Virginia, the crackle of rifle fire, the steady tatto of machine guns, and the bark of field pieces was already heard, as 17,000 National Guardsmen from Pennsylvania, Virginia, Maryland, and the District of Columbia defended Washington against invading regulars equipped with high speed tanks and combat cars.

They were "fighting" over the same ground and with the same military objective as the grandfathers of many of them fought in the historic campaigns of the Army of the Potomac in the Civil War.

REPEAT HISTORIC DRIVE

And, further paralleling the historic significance of the sham campaign, the defenders formed a comparatively static force, while the invaders, with their high speed armored equipment, had much the same advantage in mobility, and the same disadvantage in their smaller numbers, as the swift-striking cavalry of Generals Lee and Jackson had against the comparatively slower moving Federal troops.

First attack, as in the Civil War campaigns, was concentrated against Manassas Junction, near the field of Bull Run, where took place the first clash in the field between the Northern and Southern troops.

Here, too, was reported the first casualty of the maneuvers, when Private August M. Mikulow, 18th Infantry, New York, caught his hand in a meat chopper while on kitchen police duty, and suffered the loss of a finger.

COME AND GET IT!—The old gag about an army traveling on its stomach still applies. These boys of Company H, 3rd Battalion, 66th Infantry, from Fort Devens, are answering the mess call during extensive U. S. maneuvers at Plattsburg, N. Y.

'Missing' Plane Safe At Fort Ethan Allen

ALBANY, N. Y., Aug. 14 (AP)—A U. S. Army plane sought by state police for more than 16 hours turned up undamaged today at its destination, Ft. Ethan Allen, Vt.

Chief Inspector Albert B. Moore of the State Police Bureau of Criminal Investigation said the plane, which was unreported since it left Albany at 4:32 p. m. (E. D. T.) yesterday landed at Ft. Ethan Allen an hour and a half later.

MENTON, Aug. 14 (AP)—The body of Anthony Travers, 36, of 16 Sheldon st., Providence, R. I., was recovered today from Lake Nipmuc by firemen. He drowned yesterday while bathing.

2 MEN, TRADED WIVES FACE MORALS CHARGE

LAPEER, Mich., Aug. 14 (AP)—George Davis and Clarence June, who said two months ago they had traded wives and divided their children, were arraigned today before Justice of the Peace Albert H. Perkins on morals charges.

Arraigned with them were the women, Mrs. Edith June and Mrs. Mildred Davis. All stood mute and examination was set for Aug. 28.

All were released on their personal recognizance pending examination.

The charges grew from an investigation conducted by Justice Perkins at the request of Prosecutor Thomas C. Taylor after protests had been made by other residents of western Lapeer County.

Twenty witnesses, including neighbors and friends of the couples testified at Justice Perkins' inquiry. At the investigation June and Mrs. Davis, and Davis and Mrs. June denied there was anything immoral in the situation.

"We're happy this way," June said. "Why can't people leave us alone?"

Police said June, a swamp farmer, bartered Mrs. June, a cow and seven children for Mrs. Davis and her four small daughters. June kept three older sons, making the division of progeny even. Davis is a Flint automobile worker.

Boys' Band to Give Eileen Movie Sendoff Tomorrow

Eileen Parker, Boston's little orphan girl who is to have four glorious days in Hollywood as the guest of 16-year-old Linda Ware, screendom's newest child star who knows all about the heartaches and loneliness that little orphan girls have—she's one, herself—will leave town Tuesday night in a blaze of glory.

HOLLYWOOD, AHOY!—Pretty Eileen Parker togs herself out in this I. J. Fox costume . . . preparatory to her descent upon Hollywood and four days of happiness with orphan-star Linda Ware. The costume is an I. J. Fox creation, designed in Hollywood.

She'll be escorted to South Station, it has been decided, by the House of Angel Guardian band under the direction of Tony Rocky, and as her train steams away they will play for her as they never played before, not because she's Eileen Parker, or because she is to be a guest of a real-life movie star, but because she is a brave, courageous little girl, who has faced life's problems with fortitude and is being rewarded for a friendly gesture.

It was a letter from Eileen to Linda, written after she read about the young star's success, which led to the invitation—a letter from one little girl to another, bridging a continent, linking them with a tie of friendly understanding.

SUNDAY IN HOLLYWOOD

The train is scheduled to leave at 5 o'clock. The boys will gather at the station around 4:30 to speed her on her way.

Then a day in Chicago, a day in Denver, another in Salt Lake City—with a trip to Boulder Dam—and Sunday, a week from yesterday, she will be in Hollywood. She is accompanied by a companion and chaperone, who will be with her every minute of the time.

And today is to be another one written in red letters for the little girl who, since she was three, has never known what it was to have a home and a family of her own.

Her hair fluffed out in a permanent wave, obtained Saturday, and wearing one of the new dresses from I. J. Fox, she will start on her second shopping tour, buying all the things she will need for the journey—traveling bags, toilet articles, everything.

Tomorrow will be that day of days when she starts on her tour.

In Hollywood she and her companion will be installed in the best hotel in the film capital. A week from today she will meet Linda Ware for the first time, and probably will be taken on a tour of Paramount Studios, where Linda has just completed her first picture, "The Star Maker," in which she appears with Bing Crosby, and other stars. And Eileen will probably meet Crosby.

TRIP TO CATALINA

Tuesday night she will go as Linda's guest to the world-premiere of the picture, a regular Hollywood opening, with floodlights, movie cameras, microphones and all the trimmings. And she will be a part, and an important part, of that event.

Then a trip to Catalina, other excursions, and the start back home. It may be that she and her companion will stop off at New York for a tour of the World's Fair on the way back.

Eileen was born in Charlestown 13 years ago, one of eight brothers and sisters. Her mother, Mrs. Frank Parker, died, and the family was broken up, the children being placed in different homes. Recently, with the help of a friendly policeman, her brother, Joe, 16, who has a job and is quite a man-of-the-world began to trace them down, and has located all of them. One day, he and Eileen hope, they'll all be together again.

Linda Ware, who is really Beverly Stillwagon, had much the same experience.

Jewish Refugees Seek Haven Here

Boy Hangs Self As Parents Bar Any More Pets

NORRISTOWN, Pa., Aug. 14 (AP)—The body of 12-year-old George Quigley was found hanging by a rope from a high fence a few hours after his parents refused to let him increase his array of pets—consisting of pigeons, two goats and a dog.

"George's father is a WPA worker," said his mother, Mrs. Catherine Quigley. "He gets $15 a week. There are eight of us in the family.

"So we simply had to tell George not to add to his supply of pets. We never dreamed he would do what he did."

SECOND SQUALUS LIFT EXPECTED WEDNESDAY

PORTSMOUTH, N. H., Aug. 14—Cheered by a "well done" from President Roosevelt, Navy salvagers today set hoisting gear for a new try at lifting and towing the submarine Squalus, which struck an unchartered mud bank while being towed toward port.

The salvage fleet weathered a rough, stormy night, the Navy reported, but daylight brought moderating seas and light winds facilitating preparations for the second lift.

Navy officials said the second hoist probably would be made Wednesday, and that the submarine then would be towed finer or five miles to be grounded again in 80 or 90 feet of water.

LEPKE PAL SEIZED IN FARM HIDEAWAY

NEW YORK, Aug. 14 (AP)—Joseph Amoruso, 45, described by police as leader of the strong arm squad used by Louis (Lepke) Buchalter in the garment industry racket, was in police custody today.

Amoruso, known to police as "Joe Strawberry" because of a pinkish mole on his right cheek, was arrested secretly yesterday on a farm in New Paltz, N. Y., and brought back to New York to face a conspiracy charge.

He was indicted two years ago with Lepke and 15 others, including Lepke's partner, Jacob (Gurrah) Shapiro, who now is serving a federal penitentiary term.

Amoruso fled from the city a year before his indictment was returned.

An intensive search has been under way for Lepke as a result of what Dist. Atty. Thomas E. Dewey described as an apparently organized campaign to kill off all witnesses against him.

ATTLEBORO, Aug. 14 (AP)—John H. Sherman, 86, believed to be one of the last survivors of the theater audience which saw the assassination of President Lincoln, died today.

He was a native of Rockport, Me., and from 1879 to 1880 was a secretary for James G. Blaine, former governor of Maine and once candidate for President.

PETZOLD UNDER 2D JURY QUIZ

Former Patrolman Paul A. Petzold went before the grand jury again today as the members took up the second phase of their "sellers ring" investigation, growing out of Petzold's confession to police, this time to testify that several policemen knew of robberies in which he was concerned before they were committed.

Meanwhile, Police Commissioner Joseph F. Timilty held for action a 97-page report by his special investigating commission of three deputy superintendents appointed to sift the Petzold charges, recommending trial by the police department of one police lieutenant and four patrolmen on neglect of duty charges.

The police trial board action, it was pointed out, could result only in dismissal of the accused men from the force, if they should be found guilty, and would not preclude action against them by the grand jury.

Should a civilian court find them guilty of neglect of duty for their own advantage, they would face possible prison terms of a maximum of 10 years.

Youth Denies Abducting Girl

Charged with abducting an 18-year-old Hyde Park girl who had been reported missing Saturday, Harold Johnson, 22, married, of Leonard ct., Dorchester, was held today in $3000 for a hearing in West Roxbury court.

Johnson, before Judge Bert E. Holland, pleaded not guilty. No witnesses were present in court and Special Officer Henry Williams of Hyde Park station said they were "in hiding" but refused to give the reason.

On Saturday, Miss Rose Ierera, 18, of Metropolitan ave., Hyde Park, was reported by her family as missing. The information was relayed to other police departments through regular channels and the couple, according to police, were picked up in New York yesterday.

ARTIST POWERS DIES AT 69

NEW YORK, Aug. 14 (INS)—T. E. Powers, retired cartoonist of the Hearst newspapers and one of the first and most successful of the political cartoonists, died early today at his Long Beach home after a long illness.

Mr. Powers, who had been ailing for more than two years, had celebrated his 69th birthday on July 4.

T. E. Powers

Although his political cartoons and his caricaturing of public men probably had been his most effective, he was most famous for the little "joy" and "gloom" figures with which he enlivened many of his drawings.

Born in Milwaukee, he had been a member of the Hearst organization for almost 40 years.

PAYS HIM TRIBUTE

Almost daily, for nearly two score years, his pungent comment, in pen and ink drawings, on the fads and foibles of the day enlivened the editorial pages of Hearst newspapers from coast to coast. In an obituary article today, the New York Journal-American commented:

"His simple line drawings were so effective in combatting political corruption and profligacy, and in conecting corporate abuse, that more than one public plunder trembled when he saw the famous 'T. E. Powers' signature on a cartoon directed at him."

Possessor of a keen wit and a sage philosophy, he had the ability to transfer these qualities into a biting picture editorials with a few sure, quick strokes of his pen.

FRIEND OF PRESIDENTS

He was the favorite cartoonist of the late President Theodore Roosevelt, and his own favorite cartoon was one he drew of President Calvin Coolidge sawing wood and saying nothing.

Pres. Coolidge saw and liked the drawing, and his request for the original, written on White House stationery, was one of Mr. Powers' most cherished mementoes of his long newspaper career.

The famous "joy" and "gloom" figures became a sort of trade mark for Mr. Powers, and the appearance of "joys" chasing "glooms," or vice versa, indicated at a glance the tenor of the event he was limning.

The little imps became almost as famous in their field as the Mickey Mouse of a later day became in his own medium. Indeed, there was a resemblance between the type of drawing used by the creators of both, and the philosophy expressed by their characters.

The appeal of the Powers cartoons defied coldly analytical reasoning. Combining drollery with a penetrating social criticism, they often were as full of indignation as any editorial, using the irony and satire of caricature rather than the ringing phrases of the printed word.

Deny Damages to Kin Of CCC Truck Victim

Byron MacDonald, Bainbridge st., Malden, lost $2500 today when President Roosevelt vetoed a bill to pay him that amount in compensation for the death of his son, Richard, beneath the wheels of a Civilian Conservation Corps truck July 21, 1937.

In his message, according to advices, the President said he could find no evidence of negligence by the driver of the truck.

'DANZIG PLAN' PUT TO HITLER, POLES

By the Associated Press

A plan for peaceful settlement of the Danzig question was reported afloat in Europe today.

In Berlin a Nazi source with good official connections said Prof. Carl J. Burckhardt, League of Nations commissioner for Danzig, had proposed a reunion of Danzig to Germany with establishment of "a direct and guaranteed connection between East Prussia, including Danzig, and Germany proper."

It was admitted for the first time in Berlin that Burckhardt was in consultation with Hitler last week. Hitler, Polish Foreign Minister Beck and Albert Forster, Danzig Nazi leader, all were said to have accepted the plan as a possible basis for discussion.

In London British official circles observed that Burckhardt now was "in a position to make contacts" with both the Polish government and the Danzig Senate, and they saw in Burckhardt's talks with Hitler a possible preliminary move to negotiate the Danzig dispute.

To Warsaw the view was expressed Burckhardt had discussed with Hitler the possibility of a "new solution" for the future of the free city, Germany's before the World War and now within Poland's customs administration.

These developments followed upon a reported decision by Germany and Italy upon a joint course of action in Europe's immediate future. The exact nature of this decision, however, was not disclosed.

High Nazi officials were defiant, warning that the "European powder barrel," meaning Danzig, "may explode" unless the question of the free city's status is settled speedily, while in London there was a hint of a possible compromise.

Hopes of Italian leaders for drawing Yugoslavia closer to the Rome-Berlin axis were increased with arrival today in Rome of a telegram addressed to Il Duce by Yugoslav Premier Dragisha Cvetkovich. The message expressed a hope that friendly relations between Italy and Yugoslavia might be intensified.

In the Far East the municipal council of Shanghai's international settlement ruled that "no further European refugees" would be permitted to land in the city. The order was aimed at Jews and followed a similar ban last week.

SAWYER IN BLAST AT SALTONSTALL

Bitter feeling against Gov. Saltonstall, manifest as tired legislators betook themselves homeward, found expression today in a blast delivered at the chief executive by the Rev. Roland D. Sawyer of Ware, dean of the Democratic representation in the House.

The Republican state administration, Sawyer declared, "began with failure and ended in a farce."

The governor was at Jaffrey, N. H., visiting his father-in-law, Dr. William F. Wesselhoeft, and was not available for comment on Sawyer's statement. Executive office attaches said he was expected back late Wednesday or Thursday to attend the American Legion's state convention at Taunton.

Scoring the Governor for his fiscal policies, and remarking bitterly on the Saltonstall veto of the measure to increase legislators' pay for the Commonwealth's first biennial session, the Ware minister predicted that Governor Saltonstall's record to date would be enough to defeat him, should he run for Governor again.

"The Democrats need make no serious effort to defeat Saltonstall," said Sawyer. "By his complete failure as a leader and his repudiation of his campaign promises, he has defeated himself.

"Elected on promises to secure economy, he has pushed through a budget which reaches near $180,000,000 — some $30,000,000 higher than the Ely, Curley and Horley budgets.

"Elected on pledges of reform, he has backed away from every such issue, and ended the session by vetoing the Bigelow bill to end salary rackets in the Governor's office."

Sawyer accused the Governor of conducting a "Hitler-like" purge in state offices, and of finding jobs for his political followers at salaries greater than those of the Hurley regime.

"Elected by taxpayers to whom he pledged relief, he has forced through statutes increasing taxation by over $20,000,000, and he appeared piqued when he could not add another $2,000,000," the Ware Democrat added.

He charged the Governor with "ingratitude" when he refused to sanction the pay raise for legislators, pointing out that Saltonstall served with many of the legislators during his years in the House, and that they bent every effort for his election.

"Gov. Saltonstall has not measured up to the job the people gave him last fall," Sawyer declared.

Morris Sees New 'Purge' By Saltonstall

Charging Governor Saltonstall with planning a new "purge" of the state public works department in order to give additional patronage, Albert E. Morris, House Democratic floor leader, charged today the governor's tactics of "interference" with legislative action had prolonged the 25-hour final session.

"The reason for holding us in continuous session until late last night was the interference of the chief executive, who was constantly sending for the President of the Senate and the Speaker of the House, as well as numerous senators, to whip them into line on legislation he wanted passed," declared Morris.

"Passage of the order of the Governor for an appropriation of $7500 for a second investigation of the Department of Public Works means only one thing—he intends to keep purging the department.

"This is an attempt by the Governor to oust men in key positions whom he believes he cannot control to replace them with men he can control, so he can distribute patronage as part of the payoff to Republican legislators."

As soon as the movement and noise stopped unmarried persons ran into the dark and started breaking in the car windows to get the living out.

Luxurious WINTER AHEAD!

AND indeed it will be a luxurious winter in the new furs being featured by Boston's Value Belt stores.

Luxury furs such as Beaver—Broadtail—Mink—Persian—Seal—Fox, you will find offered in the August Fur Sales.

Styling, too, leans toward luxury with the swing back silhouette—the box coat with the fuller back than last year or the fitted coat now being stressed by Paris Couturiers.

Collar styles are small—sleeves are of the shrug type, giving the taller line, and short coats will be popular among the younger set.

All during August, thousands of smart New England women will step from sweltering streets into the cool fur salons . . . to look, and buy and save!

Now is the time to take advantage of that delightful shopping paradox . . . the August Fur Sales.

The Atlantic City Press-Union claimed "Scandal" a [illegible] in a front page story, and the Philadelphia reviewers were [illegible] impressed.

Mineral Oil and Vitamins

. . . vitamin A . . .

VITAMIN A is the anti-xerophthalmic vitamin, because its omission from the diet results in an eye disease called xerophthalmia. It is a component of butter fat and egg yolk. It is also present in the green leaves of plants, in certain roots especially those with yellow color (carrots, sweet potatoes, etc.), and to a more abundant degree in fish oils such as cod liver oil.

VITAMIN C is the anti-scorbutic vitamin, because its absence from the diet results in scurvy. It is particularly abundant in fruits, green vegetables and milk. Oranges, lemons and tomatoes are the richest known sources.

Gelatin Desserts

Please tell me the vitamin content in gelatin desserts.

Mrs. W. H. K.

Gelatin itself contains no vitamins. If true fruit juice is used in making the jelly one will obtain vitamins directly proportional to the amount and kind of that fruit juice.

It's Safe to Save Time

Are raw carrots unfit to eat when scraped and cleaned in preparation for use on the following day? Mrs. W. M. P.

The only food value which is in carrots that might possibly be lost through the time elapsing between the preparation and eating is the antiscurvy vitamin C. . . . no figures on the extent of the loss of this vitamin, but, in general, if the scraped product were kept cold it would be small. All the other values, including vitamin A, would suffer little destruction.

AUSTEN LAKE

Sox Gain; Then Lose on Yankees

A MIGHTY HOWL, FIT TO FRIGHTEN the pigeons on the downtown Common, rose from Fenway's simmering, shirtsleeved 30,000 as the Red Sox opened the evening half of their Sabbath doubleheader. But the shout was for nothing the Sox were doing at the moment. It was for something that had happened 350 miles southwest of Tom Yawkey's toy-town ball yard.

AUSTEN LAKE

Our Fauntleroys had won the first game by 9 to 1, a precise and unimaginative contest in which they attained a perfect balance between Fritz Ostermueller's pitching and Cramer's, Foxx's and Vosmik's batting. And at the moment Dinny Galehouse began pitching his custard-pie ball, the little numerals on the scoreboard showed the Yankees and Athletics tied at 9-all in the ninth. Upstairs in the press coop a telegraph wire began stuttering and presently the final figure on the scoreboard showed, "Athletics 12, Yankees 9." So the crowd rared back and let go a gigantic holler.

Thus, by courtesy of the Athletics' kid Catcher, Frankie Hayes (Ed. note—rumor says he is coming to the Red Sox next Spring) the Red Sox enjoyed the sensation of creeping up within five games of the league lead—for about an hour. And today, as they take the noon choo for Philadelphia they are exactly where they were on Saturday night—6 games behind.

Pitching and Curfew Trouble

[illegible] didn't hesitate! "Heving!" he said, punning on the big [illegible]'s name. So Cronin waggled his mitt again and in came [illegible] to shoot the trouble. And so it went all afternoon, with the Sox batters taking the bolds and Cronin thumbing his roster for [illegible] until he had used up five, including Jack Wilson and [illegible] Dickman. By this time the crowd was yelling "We want [illegible]," remembering the neat job of work Mr. Muscles had performed [illegible] emergency last week. But Cronin pretended not to hear.

[illegible] have never heard a Boston baseball throng fluctuate [illegible] the gates of approbrium and disgust as this one did. They [illegible] gutterly at each little delay, burbled their tongues at the [illegible] their larynxes loose at every little hunk [illegible] was performed, especially the two titanic home runs [illegible] Williams and Bobby Doerr.

[illegible] went bouncing [illegible]

Harris Waits for Curfew

[illegible] SHADES OF NIGHT WERE falling fast [illegible] entire ball park was undone; toward [illegible] Cronin it was plain to see that Stanley Harris, the Senators' manager, was not going to let the Sox have [illegible]. He kept his batters hitting [illegible] Umpire Bill Summers spatted [illegible] and [illegible] with Pitcher Leroy Parmelee at the plate, whispering little words [illegible] Parmelee [illegible] the umpires.

[illegible]

[illegible] with [illegible] when Cronin hit into a double play [illegible] had scored off the last second and the Red Sox had the delicious satisfaction of knowing that if they had not gained any ground on the Yankees they hadn't lost any either. And today the team moves toward its final wind about the West and a tour which will determine their pennant destiny. They are still snatching at the coat tails of the League's No. 1 position—six games to gain and fifty [illegible]

Jolson Gold Mine For Reliable Tout, Mr. 'X' Reveals

ARTICLE NO. 2

By MR. "X", WORLD'S CHAMPION TOUT

(As revealed to Dave Wilson and Jack Conway)

The thoroughbreds were racing at Belmont, and everybody in Who's Who in racing, the theater, the movies and in business was out for a grand holiday.

I was standing under the rail watching the horses as they were being brought to the paddock.

A short distance away from me Al Jolson, famous black face comedian, was also watching the horses parade, and was seen as one of the biggest bettors at the betting tracks.

JOLSON SET ON HORSES

Jolson's interest in horses, as we were given a job to one of Jolson's shows because he knew horses. One of Jolson's chief jobs was to find gambling rooms where Al could place a wager on the horses.

Jolson, interested as he always rewarded

AL JOLSON

[illegible] and when one of them [illegible] anyone me. I asked:

"How do things look today?"

"We've got a winner," replied the boy.

AL HEDGES OVER

I didn't have to go looking for Jolson. Al had heard the boy speak to [illegible]

What did that boy say," asked Jolson.

He told me he had a winner," I answered.

What's the name of the horse he passed Jolson.

"One you cannot fail to bet on," I said with an air of certainty.

"Who is he?" insisted Jolson as his interest in the horse increased.

"Comic Song by Black Jester out of a mare called China Song," I declared.

I sing comic songs," interrupted Jolson, and am playing in a show called Chinatown at the Winter Gardens say no more. I'm playing Comic Song."

When Comic Song won, Jolson came over to me and made me a handsome gift.

BET $15,000 ON RACE

Touts always leave it to the judgment of the person to whom they give information to bet the fee. Winners as a rule are generous. [illegible] other pass money and are anxious to get another winner.

I owed my first article in the [illegible] to Al Jolson, [illegible] about my information. Up over [illegible] Al four straight winners and they both ended up with plenty of cash.

During a meeting at Saratoga Jolson had a friend who had a horse running and he decided to [illegible] the horse owned by his friend.

[illegible] and became very indignant and told Jolson that if he played his friends horse he would not furnish him with any more in [illegible]

Al had been unable to find out the tout's identity. Good touts always like to surround them selves with an air of mystery. It helps increase their standing, and gains for them larger fees.

Gold Crest is going to win this race," insisted the tout.

Jolson finally weakened and bucked Gold Crest for $15,000. Al was one of the happiest persons at the track when Gold Crest won at odds of 2 to 1.

TOUT REWARDED

The tout received a fat reward [illegible] paced away for a tip [illegible] cannot bet on horses [illegible] can do [illegible] have fresh money in [illegible]

The movie stars have been soft [illegible] for touts. They earn big money and are willing to wager it. This is why the mutuel handle at Santa Anita and the other California tracks has been so large. It has been the money of the wealthy movie colony.

[illegible] like many other people to feel they are in the know. They go for the confidential information.

In touting, one must always [illegible] secrecy on the so-called sucker. Nobody will pay for information. The thinks it is common [illegible] if a man or women [illegible] quietly in confidence, [illegible] all at least a dozen

I have found New England one of the poorest spots for a tout to make money. When you try to tout New Englanders, they start asking you too many questions.

We get our breaks, however. A few years ago one Greater Boston business man went for $15,000 on tips that didn't stand up.

The tout, of course, was trying to aim. That is the only way he can make money at a mutuel track.

HOW THEY TRIP SUCKERS

[illegible] when the money [illegible] through a book- [illegible] The tout then can give his customer stiffs and cut in with the winnings of the bookmaker.

Last season there was a big bettor in Lawrence who wanted special information from the track.

One of the top touts made a deal with the Lawrence bookmaker who was handling the play. It was agreed to give the bettor stiffs and for the bookmaker and tout to cut up the profits.

The [illegible] at the track early in the morning looking for a horse he thought was sure to lose. He finally wired a horse to the bettor, and the animal came in to pay almost $100.

The tout went to a Boston night club, and didn't have the coutage to call the bookmaker until he had had half a dozen drinks. He then called the bookmaker and told him how he tried to come up with a

"You keep sending him horses and we'll do all right," said the bookmaker good naturedly. "Now that you have given him a $100 horse to mistake he will think you cannot be wrong."

The bookmaker was right. The tout finally caught up with the bettor and fleased him for a loss.

Most touts, however, don't follow such a system. They want to give their customers winners and then cut in on the profits.

TOUTING AL CAPONE. This interesting story will be told in tomorrow's article in "The Confessions of a Tout."

Rube Chases 3d Straight Win

Rural Rube, greyhound speedster, will be seeking his third straight victory in the national championship match at Wonderland Park tonight.

The Rube was victorious in the first tilt over the 5-16 distance and then came back to walk away with the field over the futurity route.

Tonight's third and final heat will be over the gueling Revere course and he figures to make his victory all the more convincing over this marathon route.

Cherokee Stroller, imported to furnish Rural Rube with competition, has failed thus far but may improve over the long Revere course.

Mr. Boston

By JACK CONWAY

THE BEES COME popping back into town tomorrow to play the Phillies after a disastrous road trip.

Perhaps it was due to the loss of the colorful Eddie Miller, but the Bees lacked the necessary winning punch in the games played away from home. A little better pitching, improved fielding and some timely hitting would have meant a great deal to the Bees on their road trip as many of their games were lost by one-run margins.

If the Bees had been crushed by the opposition Casey Stengel could have concluded he had a bad ball club, and started rebuilding. As it was, Stengel realizes that with only slight improvement the Bees would have won six or seven more games than they did.

The Bees have been unfortunate in the matter of injuries to star players. The loss of Tony Cuccinello and then of Eddie Miller cost the club its chance to battle for a place in the first division. This brilliant double play combination helped offset the lack of effective pitching.

On paper, the Bees have one of the best pitching staffs in the National League, but it has not been as effective as Casey Stengel would like to have it. Maybe during the present home stay the Bees flingers will do some of the things that were expected of them earlier in the season.

While the Bees return home, the Red Sox go to Philadelphia and then Washington after which they once more invade the West. The Sox have proved a powerful road club, and the players are confident it will close in the gap that separates them from the Yanks.

The Yanks didn't do so well on their last invasion of the West. They got their break when the Sox cracked up in Chicago and dropped four out of five games. Cronin's club then rallied in St. Louis and swept the series.

Conn in Boston Garden October Bout

BILLY CONN, world's light heavyweight champion, will make his Boston ring debut at the Garden in October in a bout under the promotion of Mike Jacobs. Jacobs will be busy with the Louis-Pastor, Nova-Galento and Conn-Bettina matches in September, and feels October will be a better time to invade the Boston boxing field.

Jacobs will probaly not stage more than half a dozen ring shows here during the indoor season. Mike realizes he must furnish top attractions if he is going to make any money. As a result, he will build around Billy Conn, Hammering Henry Armstrong and Fred Apostoli.

There isn't any immediate chance of Joe Louis showing in Boston. There isn't a suitable opponent to send against the "Brown Bomber" in this city, and the Boxing Commission and public would not tolerate a third-class bout.

Jacobs will be advised by Walter Brown of the Garden, and the latter would not approve a bout that did not promise to furnish real action.

I think Conn is Jacobs' best bet to bring back Boston boxing. Conn is young, Irish-American and an action fighter.

Oscar Vitt Rated New Baseball Contract

OSCAR VITT rated the new contract he has just signed to manage the Cleveland Indians in 1940. Vitt has been rebuilding the Cleveland club, and if he is able to develop an infield combination he should go places with the Indians next year. It also has some top batters. Infield weakness has been the chief trouble with the club.

There have been rumors that Vitt was to be replaced by a new manager next year. This is one of the reasons why the Cleveland management signed Vitt at this time. They wanted to give players and fans positive proof that nobody was dissatisfied with Vitt.

Jimmy Dykes recently signed a two-year contract to manage the Chicago White Sox.

Joe McCarthy of the Yanks is a fixture, while Joe Cronin will sign a new Red Sox contract as soon as his present five-year contract expires at the end of the present season.

The most important managerial change is expected to take place in Chicago where the Cubs are expected to name a new pilot to take over Gabby Hartnett's duties. Frankie Frisch is still being mentioned for the job, but will not even consider it unless given a three-year contract. The Cubs management has a habit of replacing managers each year.

Random Shots at Target

THE MARCH of racetrack fans and horsemen turns in the direction of Narragansett Park today, where a 30-day summer meeting gets under way . . . They are getting $6 for clubhouse tickets at Saratoga, $3 for grandstand tickets and a cut rate of $1.75 for ladies' tickets in the grandstand . . . Without mutuel machines, it is necessary for Saratoga and other New York tracks to charge high admission fees . . . At mutuel tracks, large attendances are necessary to keep up the handle, and as a result there are low admission charges . . . There will be the usual passes for the Narragansett Park meeting.

Washington Park in Chicago is still awarding prizes for the best handicappers among the fans . . . One makes their selections before the races each day . . . There is a $1000 prize for anybody who picks the entire card . . . If there isn't a winner, the $1000 is dropped into the next day's pot, making the total to be won $2000 . . . As the size of the pot increases, the fans strive harder to name the winners . . . No fan is permitted to make more than three sets of selections . . . A coupon printed on the program is used in making the selection . . . This system naturally increases the sale of programs . . . the revenue derived in this way helps to pay the $1000 prize.

DRIVE ON FOR PARK PLAYOFFS

Final drives for preferred positions in the playoffs of the Boston Park League begin tonight as the final week of the 1939 schedule gets away.

Showing the winning form which carried them to the 1938 pennant, Bill Benson's St. Augustine crew has definitely nailed second place in the East division behind the Roslindale Town Club, and tonight Bill takes his club to Dorchester Town Field where Dick Casey Club awaits them.

Dick has held the first berth in the West since the third week of the campaign and tonight will pitch Sammy White or Cerrone against either Dwyer or Oban for St. Augustines.

Murphy Club of Brighton was ousted from Western second position last week by Navy Yard, and tonight they play the tars at Barry Field in Charlestown.

The Murphies were set back twice by St. Augustines last week and are now in a third place tie with Holy Name.

The Namers are at home at Fallon Field to the St. Alphonsus outfit from Mission Hill. As these two clubs drew 5-5 last week at Fens, a repetition of a McDermott-Grimley hurling duel is billed.

Windup clash of the night will be between Roslindale Town Club and Star of the Sea.

* * *

Jack Thompson returned to Bill Benson's St. Augustine Club pitching staff last week and signalized his return to the fold by beating the Murphy Club of Brighton.

League President Bill Mullen states that the Shaughnessy playoff system will be used in the Park playoffs beginning next week; in the two divisions number one club plays number three and number two plays number four. Divisional champions are thus determined and the two titlists will play four out of seven games for the flag.

Old Timers to Play On Dan Leahy Day

Baseball's centennial and "Dan Leahy" Day will be jointly observed at Russell Field, North Cambridge, on Sunday, Sept. 10. The event is to include a game between the Old Timers of the Boston Twi League, a game between two of the outstanding present-day nines, contests in fungo-hitting and baseball-throwing, and a band concert.

Willie Takes Golf Beating As Good Lesson

SYRACUSE, N. Y., Aug. 14—"In a way I'm glad I lost," said Willie Turnesa, national amateur champion, as he entrained for the Middle West today after bowing to Bill Holt in the final round of the Eastern championship.

"Had I won I might have been too satisfied with myself and neglected to brush up on certain phases of my game which let me down at critical stages," he explained.

Yanks Again Show Power In 21-0 Win

Scarcely had the New York fans started mourning the Yankees due to their lack of punch and inability to bounce back in recent games than they bounced back in the record books again with a typical performance at their ball-pounding best.

A score such as the 21 to 0 drubbing they handed the Athletics in the game of yesterday's double-header hasn't been seen but once before in the modern major leagues or in 38 years, to be exact. Not since Detroit beat Cleveland by the same count in 1901.

The nearest thing to it that the National League can offer since the turn of the century was a 19 to 0 victory scored by the Chicago Cubs over the New York Giants in 1906.

NOTABLE STUNT

The Yanks' performance was notable in that they haven't been going any too well, and moreover, needed that win to keep their slim six-game lead over the Red Sox from being further trimmed.

The Yanks had lost to the A's in the opener by 12 to 9, while the Red Sox were splitting two with the Senators.

In the National League, the second place Cardinals moved up to within 6½ games of the league-leading Reds by sweeping a double-header from the Reds, 4 to 2 and 6 to 3, making it three out of four for the Cards in the "crucial" series.

GIANTS COME BACK

The Giants bounced back from two defeats against the Phillies and slammed out a home run barrage to sweep a pair of games, 11 to 2 and 6 to 2.

Dizzy Dean pitched the Cubs to a 5-to-4 victory over the Pirates, making it three in a row for the league champions over the visitors.

Back in the American League, Bob Feller hurled the Cleveland Indians to a three-hit 2 to 0 victory over the Chicago White Sox in the first game for his 17th win, and Lee allowed the Indians only five hits to take the nightcap for the Sox, 3 to 0. The St. Louis Browns beat the Detroit Tigers, 11 to 7.

200-Yard Ace At Wenham Unique Feat

Holes-in-one on short golf holes are not so rare, but Willis Delano, playing at the Lake View layout in Wenham, had an ace on the 200-yard eighth hole. He hit the remarkable shot with a driver, much to the delight of himself and the other three members of his foursome.

Delano, who plays the public courses regularly, was with Harold Moore of Chelsea, Mac Walker of Boston, and Lawrence Register of Swampscott, when he hit his ace.

O'Donnell to Box In Dilboy Bouts

Joe O'Donnell, smooth boxing, terrific hitting middleweight, will storm into Dilboy Field, Somerville, Wednesday night, to display the sensational form which carried him to the N. E. championship of 1939.

Rated the outstanding boxer to come along in a decade, O'Donnell is already being hailed as a potential white hope.

Plenty of the best semi-pro pugilists have filed their entries for this the first elimination to the Dilboy Field Golden Glove tournament.

El Chico Magnet As 'Gansett Opens

By JACK CONWAY

NARRAGANSETT PARK, Pawtucket R. I., Aug. 14—El Chico, fresh from a brilliant race at Saratoga, was favored to win the $5000 added Narragansett Handicap over the six furlongs distance as the sport of the thoroughbreds returned to Rhod Island today.

ROOM AND BOARD By Gene Ahern

—AND IF YOU DON'T BEAT IT RIGHT FROM HERE, I'M GOING TO KEEP TOSSING YOU BACK IN THERE UNTIL YOU START TO QUACK!
JUST FOR THIS, I'LL DRAIN MY SIX-SHOOTER AND SEND A BARRAGE OF LEAD BEES AFTER YOU!
THEY'LL SCATTER WHEN HE STANDS UP!
Gene Ahern
8-14

Bob Shelley spotted in his big race as the fifth event on an attractive eight race program.

Porter's Mite, which raced in such sensational style to win two stakes at Rockingham Park, was among the contenders the speedy El Chico was called upon to beat.

Johnny Adams was to be up on Porter's Mite, and he is capable of matching wits with Nick Wall, who was to have his leg up on El Chico.

1200 HORSES ON GROUND

Olney, which has shown good racing form in Chicago, was expected to carry a bundle of western money when he parades postward.

With a big field, one of the longer priced horses may get out front, and furnish a startling surprise by defeating El Chico and Porter's Mite. This has been a good year for the long priced horses in stake events, and today's handicap may furnish another upset.

With more than 1200 horses on the grounds, it appeared as if every racing stable here was anxious to participate in the opening, judging from the large number of entries.

Racing Secretary Shelley's office was besieged by telegrams and telephone calls today from crack racing stables seeking stall space.

The increase in the purses and the large number of stakes suitable for horses on the grounds have made it a bit with the horsemen.

There will be many Californian and Western horses competing here. The Louis B. Mayer horses have finally become acclimated and they are expected to show to better advantage here than they did at Rockingham Park.

With the summer tourist business in Rhode Island at its height, the summer meeting should draw large crowds and have a healthy mutuel handle.

CHILDREN BARRED

The rule against children under 16 years of age being at the track will be rigidly enforced. Judge James E. Dooley and his associates believe it is detrimental to the best interests of racing to have children at the track.

The present meeting will be for 30 days. The high spot will be on September 2 when the Narragansett Special is run off with Kayak II, regarded by many as the king of the handicap horses among the starters.

Internats Ponder Sunday Twin Bills for '40 Schedule

PHILADELPHIA, Aug. 14 (AP)—The International League is seriously considering a 1940 schedule calling for twin bills every Sunday with the clubs taking Monday off . . .

Mike Jacobs personally guarantees Ambers and Armstrong will go on as scheduled and that Armstrong will make the weight. That ought to quiet the rumor hounds.

Hurls Club, Kills Caddy

PHILADELPHIA, Aug. 14 (INS)—James B. McFarland 3d, amateur golfer at the swank Huntingdon Valley Country Club, was held in $2000 bail for involuntary manslaughter.

Police charged he hurled his club in anger after dubbing an approach shot and killed his 25-year-old caddy.

McFarland sliced his drive from the fifth tee into deep rough.

Losing his temper, as he afterward admitted—he swung the club, letting it fly out of his hands. The havy driver struck the caddy, who was standing less than 15 feet away, in the left temple.

Physicians said death was caused by a depressed fracture of the skull and deep cerebral lacerations.

GRIMM RAPS N. L. AS WEAK

CHICAGO, Aug. 14 (AP)—Charlie Grimm, one of baseball's greats, who is celebrating this month the double anniversary of his fortieth birthday and his first year of radio broadcasting, said in an interview today: "It strikes me the National League is generally weaker than at any time in my 22 years with the majors."

The former manager of the Chicago Cubs asserted the game had come to a crucial pass in both the National and American Leagues, accenting his conclusion:

"From my observation of all clubs all year I'd say the big leagues had better go out and develop some ball players.

"There are plenty of promising youngsters, but they're not getting the chance."

LIKES JOE DIMAG

Grimm starred as a first baseman for Pittsburgh and Chicago in the National League and managed the Cubs from 1932 until last summer, yet he said he had learned more about the game from a broadcasting booth "than I did sitting on a bench and looking straight out at it."

Among his comments on the current situation:

"Joe DiMaggio of the New York Yankees comes closer to measuring up to the stature of Babe Ruth than any other player.

"To a certain extent pitchers of today squawk a little too much about their sore arms.

"Ball players of today are a lot more temperamental than they were 15 years ago. It is easier to play now.

"Players are better treated, and that spoils some of them. However, after considering the difference in the size of the crowds then and now, I'd say the modern players were entitled to the dough they get.

"It is encouraging that some of the big colleges have taken on old-time ball players as coaches. Something may come of that which will help professional baseball. But until recently colleges haven't shown enough interest in the game."

LIKES TO MANAGE

Grimm will withdraw to his Franklin County, Missouri, farm, at the end of the season with no certain plans for the future. The radio folk have an option on his further services. He said he had entertained no offers to get back into active baseball but:

"So far as saying I'm through with front-line baseball, I would be lying about it. I haven't lost that old feeling to be down there on the grass.

"There's a lot of worry to managing a ball club, but when winter rolls around and you can relax, you feel it's a pretty good job after all."

Saratoga Big Games Raided

SARATOGA SPRINGS, N. Y., Aug. 14 (AP)—Two early morning raids by police and a state board threat to suspend liquor licenses for four hotels today clamped a "no gambling" lid tighter on the casinos surrounding this historic spa.

Dist. Atty. Alfred L. Simon also announced a grand jury investigation of gambling where an era of big-time wagering was sponsored in the "Gay Nineties" by Dick Canfield's casino.

Simon's announcement caused a further stir in record crowds gathered for the 75th anniversary of the Saratoga race track.

Simon said evidence of gambling seized in the raids would be presented to the grand jury.

CONN FAVORITE

PHILADELPHIA, Aug. 14 (INS)—Billy Conn, of Pittsburgh, generally recognized as the world light heavyweight champion, was established as an 8 to 5 favorite today to defeat Gus Dorazio, Philadelphia heavyweight, in their ten-round bout tonight at Shibe Park.

Harris Says Sox Can Catch Yanks | Auker May Follow Rich to Louisville

By BILL GRIMES

Although they flopped badly in the West, the Bees wound up their trip in great style by taking both ends of a twin bill from the Dodgers . . . Maxie West is well on his way to become one of the outstanding sluggers of the National League. He has connected with 17 home runs this season and is topping his teammates by a wide margin in "runs batted in." Casey Stengel predicted a year ago that West was headed for stardom . . .

* * *

Manager Stanley "Buckey" Harris, of the Washington Senators, believes the Red Sox will overtake the Yankees. According to Bucky, Bill Dickey is "shot," and Joe DiMaggio and Charlie Keller are the only dangerous Yanks. Although he didn't say so, Bucky hinted that if anything happens to Dickey, the Yanks will wind up in the Cape Cod League . . .

Bucky Harris

One of the best breaks the Red Sox have encountered this season was to have Teddy Williams hit safely on his last eight official trips to the plate. With the club opening a long road trip tomorrow night in Philly, Teddy should be a sensation, after his successful stand against the Washington hurlers. There's no question that the long right field at Fenway Park had Teddy down, but he'll have his days in the Quaker City, St. Louis, Cleveland and Detroit . . .

* * *

Woody Rich has been sent to Louisville to rid himself of a mental complex. There isn't anything wrong with his arm. But he thinks there is, and for that reason he hasn't been cutting loose . . . When they sent Rich to the Colonels the Red Sox recalled Charlie Wagner and "Lefty" Lefebvre, former Holy Cross southpaw . . . Elden Auker had better show a winning brand of pitching or he'll follow Rich. Joe Cronin is well fed up on "tourist" pitchers . . . From here in, Red Sox hurlers will win or else . . .

* * *

It seems strange, but it's a fact that Babe Dahlgren's four-run homer Saturday in Philly was the first any Yankee has connected with this season. Incidentally, Dahlgren has driven in almost 70 runs since he replaced Lou Gehrig, despite the fact he's batting less than .250.

* * *

Contenders for the state junior crown, which Bob Adams has been obliged to pass up because he's over age, worked out today at Blue Hill, primed— their ... for tomorrow's qualifying round . . . I still believe Walter Senna, N. Bedford, will be the 1939 state j. n. ior champion . . .

* * *

Phil Masi displayed enough power with the willow during the second Bees-Dodgers game yesterday to warrant Casey Stengel starting him at regular intervals during this home stay. He made a single, a double and a home run out of four trips to the plate, drove in two runs and scored thrice.

Phil Masi

* * *

The Bees worked out today at National League Field . . . Casey Stengel still feels his charges can climb into the National League fight if they get the pitching . . . And isn't it about time at least part of the cast was removed from Eddie Miller's leg? . . .

YOUR BRIDE WANTS YOU TO BE WELL GROOMED

Today a high premium is put on personal appearance in all walks of life and a good head of hair is essential to that good appearance. It is too late when you are bald, and after that, money spent on "Hair Growing" Treatments is wasted. Thousands of men have saved and improved their hair through treatment by John E. Warner, New England's leading hair and scalp specialist. And many other cases have been rejected because beneficial results were not certain. At least 80% of all baldness is due to local scalp conditions which can be corrected if caught in time. The symptoms of approaching baldness are itchy or oily scalp, falling and thinning hair. Don't ignore these symptoms. Consult John E. Warner. There is no charge for a private consultation at his offices, 7th floor, 515 Washington St. near the corner of West St. opp. R. H. White's. Hours 10 A. M. to 8 P. M. daily. Saturdays 10 A. M. to 3 P. M. Separate department for women. Phone HUB. 1705. Fees are moderate. Advt.
